1. Introduction

This document explains how to give your consent to the release of attributes to Service Provider (in short, SP) via uApprove Jet Pack (in short, uApprove JP).

The user consent steps are as follows:

1. Login to the IdP.
2. Accept the terms of use.
3. Select the optional attributes to be released to Service and confirm it.
4. Final confirmation of release.
5. The attributes are released to the Service.

2. Operation flow

2.1 Login to the IdP

When using SP, redirect from SP to IdP of your organization, and log in to IdP.

Below is a sample of IdP with password authentication.

☐ Clear my attribute release consent

default SP description

Insert your footer text here.

If you want to reset attribute release approvals, you have to check the checkbox "Clear my attribute release consent". See 3. Reset-approvals for details.

In case "Clear my attribute release consent" checkbox is not displayed and you want to reset it, you have to access the page of the list of approved SP. See 4. List-approvals for details.

2.2 Terms of use

You may get the terms of use page (figure 2) after success of login. This page will be shown if one of below is satisfied.

- the user accesses the system for the first time
- terms of use have been revised from previously accepted by the user.

In order to continue, you have to check the "I accept the terms of use" checkbox and click the "Confirm" button.

A. Data Protection Sample Clause

"The End User agrees that personal data about the End User is compiled from generally available sources and from communications received from the End User and other Universities as well as from off-site sources. The policy relating to the use and processing of such data is posted on the University website at [...]. Such data will be used, inter alia, to authenticate and authorize the access to and use of various resources within the University and on other sites ("Approved Sites"). The End User hereby consents to the collection, processing, use and release of such data to the extent reasonably necessary for the Approved Sites. Such consent includes, but is not limited to, the release of personal data to other institutions by employing cookies and electronically exchanging, sending and storing personal authentication attributes."

B. Limitation of Liability

"To the extent permitted by the applicable law, the End User hereby waives all and any claims for own and damage, whether direct or indirect, incidental, or consequential (including, inter alia, loss of use and data profits), both as contractor and in tort, arising from the use or in any way related to the inter-organizational authentication and authorization services which allow the End User to access certain resources of other organizations. This waiver of claims shall be valid and enforceable as evidence to all participants of the inter-organizational authentication and authorization services including the AAI Service Provider and its affiliates, officers, employees and agents."

☐ I accept the terms of use

If you don't want to accept, you have to close your web browser in order to cancel the login process.

2.3 Optional attribute selection

This page shows information about you that will be released to the SP (figure 3).

- Mandatory information for using the service
These attributes are sent to SP always after confirmation. You cannot refuse release of them.
- Optional information for using the service
You can select the optional attributes to be released to SP from the list by checking the box. The attributes previously released are displayed with checked.

The meaning of the 3 types of icon placed beside the attributes is as follows:

Icon	Description
	indicates that attribute is changed since previous consent.
	indicates that how to use this attribute is provided by SP. by clicking this icon, short description is displayed to the next line.
	indicates that short description is provided. by pointing this icon, short description is displayed.

In addition, it is required to decide the policy of the release of attributes. You must choose a policy with the radio buttons:

- This time I agree to send this data. I will check the data again at next login. (default)
You can confirm the information that will be released to this SP, on every login session.
- I agree that the data same as this time will be sent automatically to this service in the future.
Allow to send the selected information when you use this SP again, automatically.
If next time you use this SP, this page will not display again unless the attributes on the agreed have been changed. See 2.3.1 Review the attributes change for if the attributes to have agreed changed.
- I fully agree that in the future all my data will be released to the service provider as required by the service that I will access.
Allow to send all attributes to any SP automatically. If you choose this, all the optional attributes will be checked and can not be unchecked.
This page will never displayed again, even if the attributes on the agreed are changed or new attributes are added.

After selecting attributes and choosing a policy, you click the "Next" button to display the final confirmation page.

3. Reset-approvals

When you logged in by checking "Clear my attribute release consent" on login page, the information below is resetted and optional attribute selection (figure 3) will be displayed.

- Approval by selecting "I fully agree that in the future all my data will be released to the service provider as required by the service that I will access."
- Approval to the individual services which can access without closing the web browser

4. List-approvals

If you access to the page of the list of approved SP (https://your_IdP_hostname/idp/uApprove/ListConsentedSP), and authentication on IdP is succeeded, you can browse that list.

But the SP you approved with "This time I agree to send this data. I will check the data again at next login." is not listed.

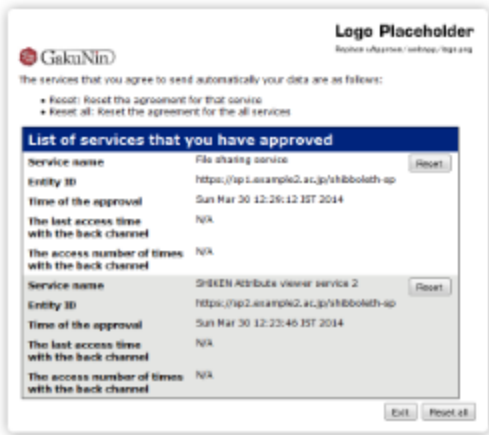

- If you have not approve any SP, displayed like figure 7
